TRUBE acoms every likelihood that full compensation will spon be paid by China the damage done during the recent riots. The French claims at Wuhu are said to have been stready settled and the other polaims will likely be adjusted as amicably. The Treaty Powers, however, will find it a more difficult job to persuade China to spen Hunan and they doubtless will be informed that it is an inopportune time to seek an extension of the foreign field China when so many nations are following the example of the United States in their treatment of Chinese emigrants. China too weak, too incoherent to be able to protest effectively against the bad treatment of her subjects, but the conduct of the a Americans, who have shown hopeless incaconciny in dealing with Chinese, has not been observed with indifference. It is only the other day that we read in a Chinese paper of Li Hung Chang having sanctioned the somewhat Quixotic proposal of the shot and killed by a French priest, acci-Chinese Consul at San Francisco to transler the Chinese coolies in America en bloc to the gold mines in the Amur district. At its peril indeed fact of the existence of prohibitive laws must weaken the influence of the Powers at Peking. Meantime the Government at Peking seems to have partially realised the danger of allowing mob law to rule unschecked. The feeble control over unruly subjects which the viceroys, governors and their subordinates exercise was demonstrated during the recent troubles, as it has good and purge out the evil of this system? been demonstrated in the past, times with out number. It is said the Manchu rulers are beginning to think that the ability to write beautiful proclamations, ornamented with quotations from the classics, is not the most fitting qualification for a governor of a province, the people having the habit of treating the proclamations according as their designs or passions arge them. A tendency is therefore being manifested at Peking in ent aspect from all other non-Christian favour of military governors. The Manchus soom to be afraid of an outbreak against their authority and would fain tighten the "reins. The appointment of a Manchu as Throne from H.E. NG CHI KIU AND OTHERS U. NG WOON SOON AND OTHERS.

The plaintiffs in this suit, Ny Chi Kiu. Ng Pak Man and Ng Chung Man, who deplaced themselves to be the descendants of the first, third, fourth, sixth and seventh sons of Ng Tun Yuen Commonly known as How Qua), sought to have it declared that they were interested in common with the defendants Ng Woon Soon, Creasy Major Wilkinson, R.E., silver mounted Ewens and Ng Chau Fong, in the property of the late firm of Russell and injunction restraining the defendants otherwise dealing with the property, and to appoint a réceiver. Mr Drummond, instructed by Mr

Dennys, appeared for the plaintiffs. An affidavit by Mr Dennys stated that on Hon. W. M. Goodman, gold lacquer cig r the 18th August last, inder instructions from the plaintiffs, he wrote to Messrs Hon. S. Brown and Members of the P. In reply Mesars Ewens and Reeco wrote ' We hasten to assure you that your clients have not the slightest interest in the properties held by Mr J. M. Forbes of New York upon certain trust for persons named in the trust deed, one of whom is, Ng Woon Soon. We presume that you refer in your letter to this property and that your clients are Ng. Pak Wan, Chung Man. Tez Kiu and Pok Chun, as these gentlemen called at our office yesterday with Ng Woon Soon. They were however, informed that the trustees would hold the property upon the trusts declared and that they (your clients) were not personally interested. We may as well inform you that under the trust deed Nu-Woon Boon has the first life interest. In an affidavit by the plaintiffs it was set forth that How Qua, before his death in 1843, entrusted to the then members of the firm of Russell and Co. large sums of money upon which the firm paid interest from time to time to the various persons Qua family for the purpose of receiving this interest in the year 1887. that his father was then handed an ac-Boyle, and Mr Quain, R.A., pair silver one of the partners of Russell and Co. chowing that the firm was indebted to the million dollars or that they had prope ty in trust for the How Qua family to that | value. The plaintiff further stated that | between the years 1878 and 18-1 the firm paid over to the representatives of the How-Qua family 839,000 a year, and from 1832 to 1890 845,000 a year. The last two sums received amounted to $9,000 each, both of which were received this year, the second Mr Drummond said he thought an examination of the statements contained in the affilavite world show that there was ample ground for the application, assuming that the circumstances set out were correct.

Court in acceding to the application ?

Mr Drummond said the plaintiffs were not asking his Lordship to exercise any jurisdiction hostile to the interests , the parties in other suits. The danger of warte, damage or alienation was last few munths, but now all of a sudden the that the defendants were in a position to

His Lordship. They have not done it yet, nor threatened to do it. Mr Drummond-They have actually ad vertised part of the property for sale. His Lordship That is a thing of the past, but there is no immediate reason, prima application for an injunction. There is no danger of injury to the property disclosed in the affidavite.

Mr Drummond submitted that the fact a danger in itself. If the plaintiffs waited of the whole affair himself. And it utter consternation and a general route something with the property they might collected to keep the engines in repair to victory witnessed the marriage coremony wait too long What the plaintiffs wanted would not interfere with the property in any way if the defendants did not contemappointment of a receiver he suggested that Mr Brace Shapherd or Mr Shelton Hooper should be appointed. He thought it was desirable under the circumstances that receiver should be appointed. The estate represented a very large amount, the How Qua family were getting as much as $45,000 a year from it recently, and, what was a mysterious fact, they had got money from it since the date of the bankruptcy.

His Lordship said the case did not seem an injunction or the appointment of a receiver, and he therefore dismissed the application. Of course if anything occurred which afforded substantial grounds for such an application it would be open to the plaintiffs to apply again.

A FINANCIAL SUGGESTION. COMMUNICATED.

One subject now attracting considerable attention among the real investors whose support is essential to the success of every commercial and industrial undertaking with capital in shares, is the high range of prices of the shares most suitable for investment purposes. Theoretically, it is immaterial whether the shares be of an original value of $1,000 or $10, but practically the higher priced shares, if the undertaking prospers, soon attain a value that places them beyond the reach of the investor of personal eavings. In dealing with this subject there is a strong desire to avoid invidious references: but as an illustration or two cannot be omitted, the institutions to which allusions must be made will be those which, not likely to be affected by impartial

A severe Edict reprimanding him for ingratitude and conferring upon him the rank of General and the Commission of Deputy Imperial Commissioner for the New Dominica compelled him to start for new soence. - Long years were passed in these bear and deserted regions, when the Seventh Prince recalled him to Peking at the head of his own army 11,000 strong, to defend the Imperial seat, as there were rumours about the French intending to make demonstrations at the northern port. The coare passed away and Chang Yao was appointed Governor of Kuangai. But Prince Chun detained him. He stayed in the metropolis and was instructed to deepen the city mosts and water coprace. The soldiers performed the work, which was rapidly completed. Who knows but the great rapidity, engineering skill, and scientific observation displayed by Chang Yao in executing this piece of work had to a certain extent influenced the Prince with the idea that he was a fit personne to lake care of the Yellow River, and ultimately procured for him the Governorship of Shantung! At any rate Chang Yao took the seals of the most interesting province. to his own use or of having done anything of the olden times and administered it but what was for the public good, but no with a zeal, justice and rigour, that surone believes him and he is still the o' jeo! passed almost all his prodecessors. I got into Shantung about the same time as that an official manages to get the people Chang Yao took office. His works on the so thoroughly down on him as this Taoter Yellow River cannot be considered, from a scientific point of view, excellent or even good, but he worked honestly. What knowledge he possessed about watercourses he devoted to making improvements. He failed to curb the fury of the mest obstinate, eccentric, and destructive of rivers, not because he did not do enough. but because he could think of no more to be done.
